

Regulations of the Scientific Journal of International Research in the Publication of Scientific Papers

Dear researchers, greetings

While respecting and appreciating the choice of this journal to publish valuable scientific efforts, please pay attention to the above regulations.

Scientific- research article: Scientific research article is an article that is the result of a scientific research. Has a proposal and research work, a summary of which research has become an article. Such as an article extracted from a master's thesis or doctoral dissertation.

Extension scientific article: Extension scientific article is an article that is not the result of the author's personal research, but is a reference to the findings of researchers other than himself, which has been written with a specific reference only to promote the topic.

Rules agreed with the researcher:

Clause 1: The article must be compiled precisely based on the style provided by the Quarterly Journal of International Research. Edits outside the style sheet will not be able to be published in the quarterly.

Clause 2: The submitted files, including national card, degree and other related requested documents, in case of damage or inability to obtain, will lead to non-publication of the article.

Clause 3: Deposit amounts are non-refundable and are considered as a shipping check fees.

Clause 4: The form confirming the authenticity of the article must be typed and signed with blue pen.

Clause 5: Articles without the approval of the supervisor will be considered scientifically promotional.

Clause 6: The arbitration of the article is confidential and the specifications of the arbitrators are non-publishable and declared.

Clause 7: Articles that are initially accepted, the sender of the article is obliged to pay the requested amount announced on the site for publishing the article. Otherwise the article will not be published.

Clause 8: The maximum arbitration period is three months from the time of submission. Researchers can follow the status of the article from the link <http://isijournal.ir/follow-up-request> 5 days after the submission time with the tracking code.

Clause 9: Obtaining a similarity certificate is required for the submitted articles, so that the id and email of the journal are listed on the first page of the journal for direct submission.

Clause 10: The maximum acceptable percentage in the certificate is 30% similarity and above that it will not be able to be reviewed in the quarterly journal.

Wishing you more and more success - magazine's editor in chef